PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

The Cypress Street Outfall Regional Stormwater Improvements Design-Build project is part of the City of Tampa's phased approach to reducing frequent flooding in residential and commercial areas of West Cass Street, North Rome Avenue, and West Gray Street, to reduce the duration and depth of flooding. The project consists of the design and construction of approximately 7,300 linear feet of box culvert, laterals, inlets, and interconnections to the existing stormwater system. The existing potable water lines and the existing sanitary sewer lines will be replaced in the project area. A new 36-inch water transmission main will be constructed. The design-build effort will also incorporate, to the extent practical, green solutions to improve water quality as part of the stormwater infrastructure.
